Valerie Guillaume : Courreges (Memoire) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Courreges (Memoire):

Andre Courreges, known as the "space age" designer, opened his fashion house in 1961 after training with Balenciaga. Producing stark, futuristic but quintessentially swinging 60s fashions, he created clothes that were precision cut and unadorned: mini dresses and trouser suits in white and silver, mid-calf boots, trapeze dresses, goggles and catsuits.
