Wizards of the Coast : Magic The Gathering: Zendikar Fat Pack before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Magic The Gathering: Zendikar Fat Pack:

Too expensiveBy Mizz ZIf you are thinking about buying a Zendikar Fat Pack I suggest you don't pay more than $35-$40 for it. At the moment of writing this reveiw this Fat Pack is about $65 and for $35 more you can buy an entire Booster Box. Which more than quadruples your number of booster packs which are generally more important than a "life spinner" or the other decorative pieces that you get. I really enjoyed the Zendikar set. I liked the flavor it brought with its landfall abilities.6 of 43 people found the following review helpful. Dissapointed.By Varnis54I am a bit disaappointed with the Zendikar expansion as a whole. It is really good if you like landfall abilities, or kors, but I don't like the Zendikar set all that much. 2010 was MUCH better than this set, and still is. How ever... I did get a few useful cards in this set like Kor Areonaut, and Armement master. But other than those two, it was a huge let down for me.

Zendikar is a new world for Magic: The Gathering. This set was designed around a theme that has never been done in a Magic set before! The set features new Planeswalkers, including Nissa Revane, the popular face of the box LIVE Arcade title Duels of the Planewalkers. The set introduces new mechanics and has one returning favorite. There are 249 black-bordered cards in Zendikar. (15 Mythic Rare, 53 rare, 60 uncommon, 101 common, 20 basic lands). Zendikar will be sold in Booster Packs, Intro Packs, Fat Packs (Fat Packs contain 8 booster packs). Starting with Zendikar Intro Pack Displays will contain 10 Intro Packs instead of 5. The expected contents of a booster is 10 commons, 3 uncommons, 1 basic land, 1 tip/token card, and 1 rare card. A Mythic rare will appear in the rare slot in approximately 1 in every 8 booster packs.
