puzzles for decades and was glad to be able to find a selection again. This book has different levels and they are as I expect (on the other hand, some 'easy' or 'gentle' puzzles aren't so easy).0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Gotta Have It!By S.ChallisThere is one word for kakuro: addictive! Buy this book and be prepared: you may neglect your work, your spouse, your household chores and maybe even your personal hygiene as you strive to build your puzzle-solving technique. Indulge yourself and challenge your brain!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. FunBy Charla GoodwinFeels my time with fun and I feel like I am giving my brain a good work out thank you

What's more fun than a crossword puzzle and more addictive than Sudoku? It's Kakuro of course the latest puzzle craze to sweep the nation. Puzzle Master Timothy E. Parker, known in the Guinness Book of World Records as "the world's most syndicated puzzle compiler," offers 150 brand new puzzles to tickle your brain and transform you from a number-stumbling novice into Kakuro Master. Easy, Medium, and Hard puzzles Five extra-large Bonus Puzzles Rules, Tips and Strategies A list of "unique sums" which are the key to unlocking the logic of Kakuro A "Complete Sum Chart" listing every possible answer (Kakuro's answer to the crossword puzzle dictionary)How to Play: Kakuro is a crossword with numbers that serve as the clues. The numbers you are given in the black cells represent the sum of that row or column. The goal is to enter digits 1-9 in the white cells to add up to the number stated. You cannot enter any number more than once. Warning: Kakuro may cause you to forget reality, lose all sense of time, miss your bus stop, and wear out all erasers in a three mile radius. Use with caution!

Move over Sudoku. There's a new grid on the block. -- Guardian [UK]About the AuthorTimothy E. Parkeris the world's most syndicated crossword compiler according to theGuinness Book of World Records. In 1996, Parker's dual interests in computers and crosswords converged and he developed an interactive crossword that became the Web's first syndicated crossword puzzle. In 1999, Parker formed Master Puzzles, Inc., bringing together the talents of more than 60 of the world's top puzzle masters into one well-managed organization.
