

(Download free ebook) The Death of Teddy Ballgame

The Death of Teddy Ballgame

Robert Mailer Anderson

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

Download

Read Online

#1810176 in Books 2016-09-01 Original language: English 8.00 x .33 x 5.251, #File Name: 0996765921129 pages | File size: 69.Mb

Robert Mailer Anderson : The Death of Teddy Ballgame before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Death of Teddy Ballgame:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great book with amazing illustrationsBy CustomerSharp dialogue. Original. Noir delivered properly! Great book with amazing illustrations. I highly recommend this be "your next read".0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy CustomerA compelling page-turner. Dark, but yet hopeful; a poignant statement on the resiliency of the human spirit.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Customerera really good read!!

From Robert Mailer Anderson, the bestseller author of Boonville. The last patrons of Cafe Dante gather for their morning coffee during what may be the final days of civilization. Apocalyptic events disrupt the routine of their lives and they are forced to take responsibility for a darkly comic reckoning which questions their faith in God, love, culture, family, humanity and each other. Its Beckett meets Mamet meets O'Neil over a double jolt of espresso!

PRAISE FOR ROBERT MAILER ANDERSON "Energetic, abrasive, very funny... Boonville delivers. - New York Times Book Review Witty and insightful . . . an original word-of-mouth success. - Publishers Weekly A great first novel...(Anderson) has a language and style all his own...bracingly fresh...uproarious." - San Francisco Chronicle on Boonville "...the funniest (debut novel) since Philip Roth's Goodbye, Columbus . . . Anderson may be the WASP Lenny Bruce."- Anderson Valley Advertiser "A very sick man and a very funny writer!" - Carl Hiaasen "A sardonic and beautifully imagined first novel...." - SF Weekly Milk-through-the-nose funny...Pynchon fans will immediately notice similarities not only with Vineland, which takes place in a similar setting and deals with similar themes as Boonville" but also with The Crying of Lot 49." - Salon.com Robert Mailer Anderson was born in San Francisco, and is a 7th generation native Californio. He is the author of the best-selling novel Boonville, co-writer/producer of the film PIG HUNT, and a contributor to The Anderson Valley Advertiser since the age of fifteen. His writing has appeared in San Francisco Noir, Zyzyva, Christopher Street, Encore, San Francisco Magazine, The San Francisco Chronicle, The Argonaut, and Ishmael Reeds Konch, among other publications.

PRAISE FOR ROBERT MAILER ANDERSON BOONVILLE "Energetic, abrasive, very funny... Boonville delivers. - New York Times Book - "Witty and insightful....When first published in hardcover by the Creative Arts Book Company, Boonville garnered praise from Jonathan Lethem, Norman Mailer and Carl Hiaasen.... an original word-of-mouth success." - Publishers Weekly "A great first novel...(Anderson) has a language and style all his own...bracingly fresh...uproarious." - San Francisco Chronicle - "...the funniest (debut novel) since Philip Roth's Goodbye, Columbus...very, very funny...Anderson may be the WASP Lenny Bruce." - Anderson Valley Advertiser "A very sick man - and a very funny writer!" - Carl Hiaasen - "A sardonic and beautifully imagined first novel...pages of well-tuned humor...distinguished by an exemplary eye for emotional detail." - SF Weekly "Milk-through-the-nose funny...Pynchon fans will immediately notice similarities not only with "Vineland," which takes place in a similar setting and deals with similar themes as "Boonville" but also with "The Crying of Lot 49." - Salon.com ON PIG HUNT "A cult film in which the story is the star" - Twitch Film -  "wholly original " - DVD Talk  "a really fun film". -Film Threat "enjoyably offbeat" VarietyAbout the AuthorRobert Mailer Anderson was born in San Francisco and is a 7th generation native Californio. He is the authorof the best-selling novel Boonville, co-writer/producer ofthe film PIG HUNT, and a contributor to The AndersonValley Advertiser since the age of fifteen. His writing has appeared in San Francisco Noir, Zyzyva, Christopher Street, Encore, San Francisco Magazine, The San Francisco Chronicle,The Argonaut, and Ishmael Reed s Konch, among other publications. Aside from a strange rash of other seemingly dissimilar occupations, endeavors and accolades, Anderson was a barista at North Beach s historic Caffe Trieste, an SFJAZZ board trustee, a member of President Obama's 2012 National Finance Committee, the 2013 SelkirkColonial Society Standard Bearer, and a recipient of the 2016 San Francisco Arts Medallion.