The dots are too-closely spaced, so we cannot put initials in the box, we have to use colored pencils to color in the box, makes for interesting pixel art though. The spine is very tight making me use a lot of force to keep the page open enough to get all the dots, my hand tires forcing the book open wide enough. Some pages are entirely dots and takes way too long to do. I was hoping for more variation on the pages, not the same rectangular shape of small/medium/large repeat. It's a big book (double-wide pages) that doesn't need to be that big. Larger spacing between the dots and spiral-bound would have made it better!

The Dots And Boxes Game Book 4 different grid sizes!
